"Black Friday" Marks Worst Upset of Season, Not One of Six Favorites Winning for Supporters; Sherando Defeats Harridan, 1 to 7 Choice

By W. J. Macbeth

Oi! Oi! Such a seekness! Good thing Black Friday comes only once a year. If it wasn't for the big crowd that turns out every Saturday afternoon nebody would be Aqueduct this afternoon. There would be no place to hide the favorite was on the wrong end of the decision. J. B. Hayly's Tell Me., the second choice, set the pace from start to fosses and, in a furinos drive, furt lasted to win from Vox Populi II by the proverbial In. Vox Populi II have the at odds on, was probably hest of the field, but was poorly ridden by Cheyne. He seemed to be coming on to sit casy vectors when he hobbled at the last lump. The bad landing cost him a couple of lengths at least, and, though he was again running over the

the last jump. The bad lending cost him a couple of lengths at least, and, though he was again running over the winner at the end. Teil Me lasted just long enough to get the verdict. It was a whipping finish through the last hundred yards of the flat, in which the two raced as a team.

John E. Madden turned one of his eleverest tricks in the closing dash of two forlongs, when his Wildrake and Mac Lir, outsiders in the betting, ran one-two. These two-year-olds raced the last furlong of the five furlong route so closely that none could call the finish. It was a duel between the Kummer brothers, as well as between the stable representatives, and the more experienced Kummer got the decision by a whisher. The Madden pair were fully four lengths ahead of J. S. Casden's Houghersgan, which beat M. L. Schwartz's Golden Eule out of third money by a scent head.

The Madden pair were entirely overlocked, the olds against them soaring from threes to sixes and sevens. The favorite, the Rancocas Stables Stockmar, ran very disappointingly. Sande got away well, but was humped in run-favorite, the Rancocas Stable's Stock-mar, ran very disappointingly. Sande got away well, but was humped in run-ming for position at the "elbow," as he had drawn the extreme outside position in a field of a dozen. The Wrack colt more showed any foot thereafter. Mrs. M. S. Allen's Faisley, a two-year-old chestnut golding, beat a field of nine cheap two-year-olds in the third trial, at five furlongs. The race was between the winner and the Mar-role Stable's Ben Wood. The latter was wearing down the winner at the end Tribune, a receding favorite, ran second to Canyon in the mile gallop second to Canyon in the mile gallop thin was fifth on the card. The others were hadly beaten of Winneconne wheeled at the start and was pulled up.

Johnny Kilbane Starts Training for Bouts

LORAIN, Ohio, June 2 .- Johnny Kilhane, featherweight champion, began training to-day at his camp west of Lorsin for a series of battles he has in mind for late in the summer and next

"I am yet champion in spite of the New York commission's action in de-throning me," said Kilbane. "I wen the title at 122 pounds and can make that weight. Yet the New York board says I must meet opponents weighing 126 pounds. Anyhow, from what law in pourlism does that commission set its pogilism does that commission get its sutherity? I think that the American fight followers want to see a man die with his boots on. I propose to surren-der the title to the fellow who licks me."

Kilbane now weighs 134 pounds. He expects to get down to 125 within the next three weeks and hold to that poundage until a match is made. Horses, Riders and Probable Odds for
